FEATURED ARTIST OF THE MONTH: Lis Zadavec

Recently, artwork by Lis Zadavec has won over a dozen honors, with acclaim by the international community of colored pencil artists. She has been published in Ann Kullberg's CP Magazine, Drawing Cats & Dogs, Hidden Treasures II, and is a major contributing artist in the just-released book, Draw Portraits in Colored Pencil. The portraits she creates in colored pencils have a strong narrative style inspired by illustrations and artwork in children's books. Innovative in her approach to materials, she will mix media, add ink, gouache, or graphite, while showing pencil marks and the artist's hand.

Born in Washington DC, Lis began taking art classes at age four. By 10, she was studying in the adult program at the Corcoran School of Art. As an adult she studied at American University, the Corcoran, Montgomery College, and with artists of the DC Color School. She co-founded Crossroads School of the Arts in Herndon VA, and has taught to all ages. While making her art, she has raised two children and built a teaching business.
